Under sec. 314 of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976, 43 U.S.C. § 1744 (1976), the owner of a mining claim located on public land must file a notice of intention to hold the claim or evidence of assessment work prior to Dec. 31 of each calendar year, both in the office where the location notice is recorded and in the proper office of the Bureau of Land Management. There is no provision for waiver of this mandatory requirement, and where evidence of assessment work is not timely filed the consequences must be borne by the claimant.

OPINION BY ADMINISTRATIVE JUDGE HENRIQUES

Jack L. Wooley 1/ appeals the California State Office, Bureau of Land Management (BLM), decision of August 4, 1982, which declared the unpatented Bell Tower placer mining claim, CA MC 56237, abandoned and void because no proof of labor or notice of intention to hold the claim was filed with BLM prior to December 31, 1981, as required by section 314 of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (FLPMA), 43 U.S.C. § 1744 (1976), and 43 CFR 3833.2-1. The 1981 proof of labor was submitted with the appeal.

1/ The claim is recorded in the names of Jack L. Wooley, Rose M. Wooley, Marina Jo Rolli, Dorothy Law and Arthur L. Law.

Appellant states he received a letter from BLM in 1980 stating that the proof of labor had been filed, which puzzled him. He thought that he had sent the 1981 proof of labor to BLM after recording it in San Bernardino County, California, May 11, 1981.

The Bell Tower placer mining claim was located January 8, 1975. Copies of the location notices and proof of labor for 1979 were filed with BLM October 22, 1979. Appellant acquired title to the claim by a quitclaim deed dated March 22, 1980. He then attempted to record the claim pursuant to FLPMA, which brought a letter from BLM stating that the claim had been recorded and a proof of labor had been filed. CA MC 56237 has been assigned as the identification number of the claim. The proof of labor referred to in the BLM letter was that filed in 1979.

[1] Section 314 of FLPMA and the implementing regulations, 43 CFR 3833.2-1(a) and 3833.4(a), require that evidence of assessment work or a notice of intention to hold for each mining claim located on public land be filed both with the county recorder's office where the location notice is of record, and in the proper BLM office prior to December 31 of each calendar year, under penalty of a conclusive presumption that the claim has been abandoned if the documents are not timely and properly filed in both places.

Despite appellant's statement that he thought he had transmitted the proof of labor to BLM in 1981, the regulations define "file" to mean "being received and date stamped by the proper BLM office." 43 CFR 1821.2-2(f); 43 CFR 3833.1-2(a). Thus, even though the document was mailed and the Postal Service lost it in transit, the fact would not excuse appellant's failure to comply with the cited regulations. Inez Crews, 59 IBLA 257 (1981); Regina McMahon, 56 IBLA 372 (1981); Glenn D. Graham, 55 IBLA 39 (1981); Everett Yount, 46 IBLA 74 (1980). The Board has repeatedly held that a mining claimant, having chosen the Postal Service as his means of delivery, must accept the responsibility and bear the consequences of untimely delivery of his filing. Edward P. Murphy, 48 IBLA 211 (1981); Everett Yount, supra; James E. Yates, 42 IBLA 391 (1979). Filing is accomplished only when a document is delivered to and received by the proper BLM office. Depositing a document in the mail does not constitute filing. 43 CFR 1821.2-2(f). The Board has no authority to excuse noncompliance with the statute or to afford any relief from the statutory consequences. Lynn Keith, 53 IBLA 192, 88 I.D. 369 (1981).

Appellant may wish to consult with BLM about the possibility of relocating this claim.

Therefore, pursuant to the authority delegated to the Board of Land Appeals by the Secretary of the Interior, 43 CFR 4.1, the decision appealed from is affirmed.
